POST-LESSON CHALLENGE · DO THIS AFTER YOUR COMPUTER LESSON

Post-Lesson Activity: Build Your Argument

Put a comma after introductory words and between items in a series.

1. Label each sentence: claim, reason, evidence, counterclaim, or rebuttal. (1) Our school should build a reading garden. (2) First, students would read more outdoors. (3) A school with a garden checked out 150 more books last year. (4) Some parents say a garden costs too much. (5) However, the garden club raised $400.

2. Rewrite each sentence with ALL the missing commas. a) In addition the garden would need soil seeds and benches. b) However most shoppers on Linden Street walk or take the bus.

3. Nadia's reason is "A garden would give families fresh food." Which is the STRONGER evidence?

   Fresh food is the best kind of food. | 60 Linden Street families have no car to reach a grocery store.

4. Writing: Should your town add more bike lanes? Write 4 or 5 sentences with a claim, two reasons that begin with First, and Second, one fact as evidence, and a list of three items with commas.

★ Challenge: Add a counterclaim and a rebuttal that begins with "However," to your paragraph. State the other side fairly, then answer it with a fact.

Looking Ahead: Week 19: a fable, a story, and a poem that share one theme, plus summaries in your own words.
