PRE-LESSON WARM-UP · DO THIS BEFORE YOUR COMPUTER LESSON

Pre-Lesson Warm-Up: Stories with a Message

Today you will read a fable, a story, and a poem that share one big idea. Show what you already know. It is fine to guess!

1. Review (Week 18): Read: "Our town should plant more trees. A study found that shady streets stay 10 degrees cooler in summer." Which sentence is the claim, and which is the evidence?

2. Review (Week 18): Rewrite the sentence with the missing comma: However trees cost money to plant.

3. Which one is a TOPIC (what a text is about), not a message about life?

   Friendship | Good friends help each other in hard times. | Sharing makes everyone happier.

4. Think of a book, fable, or movie that teaches a lesson. Name it, and write the lesson as one full sentence.

5. Retell a book or movie you like in two sentences. Tell only the most important events, in order.

Post-Lesson Activity: Theme and Summary Writer

Write in complete sentences with correct capitals, commas, and quotation marks.

1. Read this Aesop fable: All summer, the Grasshopper sang while the Ant stored grain. In winter, the hungry Grasshopper begged the Ant for food. Write a 2-sentence summary in your own words, then the theme as a full sentence.

2. Be the editor. Rewrite each sentence correctly. a) In the story Juniper in the Tall Grass, Tessa waits quietly. b) "Sit down slowly" Uncle Femi whispered. c) The horses in the pasture eats clover.

3. Which is the best THEME for the poem "What the River Knows"?

   Rivers | Patient, gentle effort can change what force cannot. | Turtles rest in a bowl of stone.

4. Writing: In 4 or 5 sentences, compare how "The Wind and the Sun" and "Juniper in the Tall Grass" show the same theme. Begin one sentence with However, and quote one sentence correctly.

★ Challenge: Write a short fable with animal characters that shows the same theme. End with a moral.

Looking Ahead: Week 20: Unit 4 Checkpoint. Review roots and context clues, drama, argument, and theme.
