PRE-LESSON WARM-UP · DO THIS BEFORE YOUR COMPUTER LESSON

What Do I Already Know?

Write what you know right now. Guesses are fine; this is your starting point.

1. What do you already know about Mexico, Texas or California in the 1800s? Write two things.

2. Have you heard of the Alamo or the Gold Rush? Write what you know about one of them.

3. Prediction: Imagine a new border is drawn and your town is suddenly part of another country. You did not move. What might change for your family? Write or draw your ideas.

4. Write one question you have about the people who lived in the Southwest before 1848.

POST-LESSON CHALLENGE · DO THIS AFTER YOUR COMPUTER LESSON

What Did I Learn?

Use evidence from today's lesson. Write in complete sentences.

1. Explain the saying "We didn't cross the border; the border crossed us" in your own words.

2. Name one group that gained from the Gold Rush and one group that paid a high cost. Give a reason for each.

3. Was the Foreign Miners' Tax fair? Use the word "discrimination" and one fact from the lesson.

4. Using the treaty and the What Happened Next chart, explain one promise the treaty made and whether it was kept.

★ Challenge: Write a short letter from Juan Seguín, Biddy Mason or Norman Asing to the leaders of the 1850s. Explain what was promised, what really happened, and what you want them to do.

Looking Ahead: Next week we study slavery, abolition and the Civil War. Bring this question: when the United States gained so much new land, why did people fight about whether slavery could spread into it?
