What Do I Already Know?

Write what you know right now. Guesses are fine; this is your starting point.

1. Name any harvest festival or fall holiday you know. Where is it celebrated, and how?

2. What do you already know about the 1621 harvest gathering at Plymouth? Who was there?

3. Prediction: Why might people in very different places all celebrate when crops are gathered?

4. Draw or describe a food your family or community shares at a special time of year. Label it.

5. Write one question you have about harvest festivals or Thanksgiving.

What Did I Learn?

Use evidence from today's lesson. Write in complete sentences.

1. Compare two harvest festivals from different parts of the world. Give one similarity and one difference.

2. Winslow wrote in 1621 and James wrote in 1970. Explain how their points of view differ, using one detail from each source.

3. Why is the National Day of Mourning held on Thanksgiving Day? Use the word "mourning."

4. Interview someone in your family: What is one tradition our family has at this time of year? Where did it come from? Write what you learned.

★ Challenge: Make a harvest-festival calendar for one year. Mark Pongal, Homowo, Chuseok, Sukkot, Cranberry Day and both Thanksgivings, and label which are set by the sun, the moon or a weekday rule.

Looking Ahead: During winter break, try the bonus lesson Winter Celebrations and the Longest Night. Bring this question: why do so many cultures celebrate with lights when the nights are longest?
