Giants of the Bay: Quoting vs. Paraphrasing — Teacher Lesson Plan & Answer Key

Learning objectives: Students tell a quote (exact words in quotation marks with the source named) from a paraphrase (the idea restated in their own words), punctuate a quotation correctly, avoid plagiarism, choose information relevant to a research question, and cite a source simply (title + author or organization).

Duration: 35–45 minutes
Materials: Computer or tablet with the lesson open · pencil · printed Pre & Post sheet

Lesson flow (as it appears on screen)

1. Slide 0 · Intro and name capture: the student types first and last name so results go to KingCretot Experience. Preview the port of Miami scene and the quest list.
2. Slide 1 · Warm-Up Review (Week 13): two quick items on figurative language and poetry (simile, metaphor, personification, hyperbole, stanza).
3. Slide 2 · Pencil Break (Pre): the student completes the Pre-Lesson Warm-Up sheet on paper before any teaching.
4. Slide 3 · Picture It: Quote or Paraphrase? One sentence from the article shown as an original, a quote, a paraphrase, and plagiarism, plus a 6-rule chart. Have the student point to the quotation marks, the comma after the tag, the capital, and the end mark inside the closing quotation mark. Stress: a paraphrase still names the source.
5. Slide 4 · Vocabulary flip cards: source, quote, paraphrase, plagiarism, citation, relevant.
6. Slide 5 · Vocabulary practice: one multiple-choice item and one typed item.
7. Slide 6 · Source A, the fact sheet “Miami’s Busy Port: Fast Facts” by the Biscayne Bay Learning Network (an invented organization), with one item. Real facts: Dodge Island in Biscayne Bay; “Cruise Capital of the World”; more than 8 million cruise passengers in 2024; 20- and 40-foot containers; refrigerated containers; 50-foot channel; tunnel opened 2014.
8. Slide 7 · Source B, the magazine article “Giants of the Bay” by Marisol Ortega (invented author and magazine; the crane operator Marcus Baptiste is also invented), with one item. Ask: which details appear in both sources?
9. Slide 8 · Quote or Paraphrase? Two items. Remind the student that a name or the word “says” does not make something a quote; exact words inside quotation marks do.
10. Slide 9 · Paraphrase Like a Pro: four steps (read, cover, write, check), a worked example showing a too-close paraphrase with the copied words crossed out, and a box on choosing relevant information with a research question.
11. Slide 10 · Research Detective: find the best paraphrase, spot the plagiarized note, choose relevant information, and a find-the-mistake explanation item. Have the student explain why each wrong choice is wrong.
12. Slide 11 · Fix the Sentence (4 typed items): quotation punctuation, capitalization, comma placement, and one grammar item (its/it’s, subject-verb agreement, or their/there). Checked exactly (curly or straight quotes and extra spaces are OK). The corrected sentence appears after the 2nd miss.
13. Slide 12 · Quote It Right (1 typed item): the student quotes a source sentence word for word, starting with the given tag, with a comma, quotation marks, and the end mark inside.

14. Slide 13 · Writer's Turn: Say It Your Way (1 typed paraphrase, 6 points). Auto-checked by four rules: minimum word count; no 4 or more words in a row copied from the original (allowed names count as one word); the key ideas included; the source named. Feedback lists the rule that was missed. A model paraphrase appears after the 2nd miss. Encourage covering the original before writing.
15. Slide 14 · Match-Up Round: 5 term/meaning pairs, 2 points per first-try match.
16. Slide 15 · Speed Trail (bonus XP only): 3 quick research questions against the student's own best time.
17. Slide 16 · Boss Challenge: two items (choose the note that is a fair paraphrase AND cited correctly / relevant AND correct, plus two-step "name ALL the mistakes" and reasoning items).
18. Slide 17 · Pencil Break (Post): the student completes the Post-Lesson Challenge sheet, including the paraphrase-writing item.
19. Slide 18 · Results: score out of 100, sent to KingCretot Experience. 85+ shows the Research Pro congratulations with a big confetti burst; below 85 shows encouragement and a fresh question set on the next try.

Lesson answer key with reasoning

Every scored item the student sees, in order, across all three rotating question sets. The "why" is the same reasoning shown on screen after a second missed try.

WARM-UP REVIEW (WEEK 13) (SETS 1–3)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
rv1_s0	"The quiet harbor was a mirror." What kind of figurative language is this?	Metaphor	It says the harbor IS a mirror without using "like" or "as," so it is a metaphor (Week 13).
rv2_s0	In a poem, a group of lines that sits together, like a paragraph, is called a ___.	Stanza	A stanza is a group of lines in a poem, the way a paragraph is a group of sentences (Week 13).
rv1_s1	"The wind whispered secrets to the palm trees." What kind of figurative language gives the wind a human action?	Personification	Wind cannot really whisper secrets. Giving a thing a human action is personification (Week 13).
rv2_s1	"This suitcase weighs a million pounds!" What is this an example of?	Hyperbole	No suitcase weighs a million pounds. A huge exaggeration for effect is hyperbole (Week 13).
rv1_s2	Which sentence is a SIMILE?	The cruise ship was as tall as a building.	A simile compares two things using "like" or "as." "As tall as a building" uses "as" (Week 13).
rv2_s2	Which explanation of the metaphor "The crane is a steel giant" is correct?	It compares the tall crane to a giant without using "like" or "as."	A metaphor compares two different things directly, with no "like" or "as." The crane is not really a giant; it is huge like one (Week 13).

VOCABULARY PRACTICE (SETS 1–3)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
v1_s0	Copying someone else's words or ideas and passing them off as your own is called ___.	Plagiarism	Taking someone else's words or ideas without giving credit is plagiarism.
v2_s0	Type your answer: restating an author's idea in your own words is called a ___.	paraphrase / paraphrasing / paraphrased	Saying the same idea in your own words is a paraphrase. (Any of these forms is accepted.)
v1_s1	Information that helps answer your research question is called ___ information.	Relevant	Relevant information connects to the question you are trying to answer.

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
v2_s1	Type your answer: the article, book, or website where you found information is called the ___.	source / sources	The place your information came from is the source. (Any of these forms is accepted.)
v1_s2	Which one names a source the simple way, with a title plus an author or organization?	Source: "Giants of the Bay" by Marisol Ortega	A simple citation gives the title and who wrote it. The other choices do not tell a reader where to find the information.
v2_s2	Type your answer: an author's exact words, copied inside quotation marks, make up a ___.	quote / quotation / quotes / quotations	Exact words inside quotation marks are a quote (also called a quotation). (Any of these forms is accepted.)

SOURCE A: FACT SHEET (SETS 1–3)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
sa_s0	According to the fact sheet, why was the main channel dug to a depth of 50 feet?	So very large cargo ships can reach the docks	The "Deep water" fact says workers dug the channel to 50 feet "so very large cargo ships can reach the docks."
sa_s1	According to the fact sheet, what does the tunnel under the bay help trucks do?	Reach the port without crowding downtown streets	The "The tunnel" fact says it lets trucks drive straight to the port without crowding downtown streets.
sa_s2	Kiara's research question is "How does fresh food stay fresh on the trip to Miami?" Which fact from the fact sheet is MOST relevant?	Some containers work like giant refrigerators.	Only the refrigerator fact answers her question about keeping food fresh. The other facts are true, but they are not relevant to her question.

SOURCE B: MAGAZINE ARTICLE (SETS 1–3)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
sb_s0	In paragraph 2, what does Marisol Ortega compare the cranes to?	Metal giraffes bending down to drink	Paragraph 2 says, "The giant cranes look like metal giraffes bending down to drink from the bay." Puzzle pieces and school buses describe the containers, not the cranes.
sb_s1	In paragraph 3, why does Marcus Baptiste say every container is "a puzzle piece"?	Each container must go in exactly the right spot	He explains, "If I put one in the wrong spot, the whole ship has to wait." Like a puzzle piece, each container has one right place.
sb_s2	Which detail appears in BOTH sources?	Giant cranes lift containers off cargo ships	The fact sheet says giant cranes lift containers on and off the ships, and the article describes cranes grabbing containers from ships. The other details appear in only one source.

QUOTE OR PARAPHRASE? (SETS 1–3)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
qp1_s0	Kiara wrote: Marisol Ortega writes, "The giant cranes look like metal giraffes bending down to drink from the bay." Is this a quote or a paraphrase?	A quote: it copies the exact words inside quotation marks	The words match the article exactly, they are inside quotation marks, and the author is named. That is a quote.

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
qp2_s0	Mateo wrote: According to the Biscayne Bay Learning Network, trucks can take an underwater tunnel to reach the port and stay off busy city streets. Is this a quote or a paraphrase?	A paraphrase: it keeps the meaning in new words and names the source	There are no quotation marks, the idea about the tunnel is in Mateo's own words, and he named the organization. That is a paraphrase.
qp1_s1	Which sentence is a QUOTE?	Marcus Baptiste says, "From up here, every container is a puzzle piece."	Only the sentence with "From up here, every container is a puzzle piece" inside quotation marks copies his exact words. The other sentences restate his idea, so they are paraphrases.
qp2_s1	Which sentence is a PARAPHRASE that names its source?	Marisol Ortega explains that a 40-foot container is roughly as long as a school bus.	"Marisol Ortega explains that a 40-foot container is roughly as long as a school bus" restates the idea in new words and names the author. The sentence with no author is copied with no credit, the one in quotation marks is a quote, and "Containers are long" names no source.
qp1_s2	Kiara wrote: Marisol Ortega says that in Miami you might hear three languages on one street. Is this a quote or a paraphrase?	A paraphrase: no quotation marks, Kiara's own words, and the source is named	Kiara restated paragraph 6 in her own words and named the author. Using "says" or a name does not make something a quote; exact words in quotation marks do.
qp2_s2	What is the difference between a quote and a paraphrase? Which explanation is correct?	A quote uses the author's exact words in quotation marks; a paraphrase restates the idea in your own words. Both name the source.	Quotes keep the exact words inside quotation marks. Paraphrases change the words but keep the meaning. Either way, the idea came from someone else, so you name the source.

RESEARCH DETECTIVE (SETS 1–3)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
d1_s0	Which is the BEST paraphrase of this sentence from the article? "Each crane reaches out over a cargo ship, grabs a steel container, and swings it gently onto a waiting truck."	A crane lifts a metal box off the ship and carefully sets it down on a truck.	"A crane lifts a metal box off the ship and carefully sets it down on a truck" keeps the meaning in new words. "Each crane reaches out over a cargo ship…" copies the original, "Cranes throw containers into the bay" changes the meaning, and the tunnel sentence is about a different idea.
d2_s0	Spot the plagiarism! Which note is PLAGIARIZED?	Cargo ships carry goods in steel boxes called containers.	The note "Cargo ships carry goods in steel boxes called containers." copies the fact sheet word for word with no quotation marks and no source. The other notes are a quote or paraphrases that give credit.

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
d1_s1	Which paraphrase keeps the meaning WITHOUT copying? Original (fact sheet): “Workers dug the main channel to a depth of 50 feet so very large cargo ships can reach the docks.”	The waterway into the port was made 50 feet deep, so huge cargo ships can get all the way in.	“The waterway into the port was made 50 feet deep, so huge cargo ships can get all the way in” keeps both ideas in new words. “Workers dug the main channel…” and “Very large cargo ships can reach the docks” copy the original, and the sentence about a channel 50 feet wide changes the facts.
d2_s1	Mateo’s research question is “Why is Miami called the Cruise Capital of the World?” Which fact is RELEVANT?	No port on Earth has more cruise passengers than Miami.	Having more cruise passengers than any other port explains the nickname. The other facts are true but do not answer his question.
d1_s2	Which is the BEST paraphrase? Original (article): “Families with suitcases line up to board, ready for vacations in the Caribbean.”	Travelers carrying their bags wait in line to get on ships heading to Caribbean islands.	“Travelers carrying their bags wait in line to get on ships heading to Caribbean islands” keeps the meaning in new words. The two notes starting “Families with suitcases line up” copy long strings of words, and “Families get off the ships” changes the meaning.
d2_s2	Find the mistake! Jada wrote: The giant cranes look like metal giraffes bending down to drink from the bay. (Source: “Giants of the Bay” by Marisol Ortega) She named the source. Is her note okay? Which explanation is correct?	No. She copied the exact words, so they need quotation marks, even with the source named.	Copied words must go inside quotation marks. Naming the source is required too, but it does not replace the quotation marks.

FIX THE SENTENCE (SETS 1–3)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
fs1_s0	Quotation punctuation: add the quotation marks around Marcus Baptiste’s exact words. Marcus Baptiste says, From up here, every container is a puzzle piece.	Marcus Baptiste says, "From up here, every container is a puzzle piece."	His exact words go inside quotation marks, and the period goes inside the closing quotation mark. (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)
fs2_s0	Capitalization: fix the three capital-letter mistakes. cruise ships sail to the caribbean from miami.	Cruise ships sail to the Caribbean from Miami.	Capitalize the first word of a sentence and the names of places: the Caribbean and Miami. (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)
fs3_s0	Comma placement: add the missing comma. The fact sheet says "Most containers are either 20 feet or 40 feet long."	The fact sheet says, "Most containers are either 20 feet or 40 feet long."	When the tag comes first, put a comma after it, before the opening quotation mark. (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)
fs4_s0	Grammar: fix the its / it’s mistake. The crane swings it's long arm over the ship.	The crane swings its long arm over the ship.	“It’s” means “it is.” The arm belongs to the crane, so use the possessive “its” with no apostrophe. (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
fs1_s1	Quotation punctuation: move the period to the right spot. Marisol Ortega writes, "The port is a meeting place for the whole world".	Marisol Ortega writes, "The port is a meeting place for the whole world."	Periods and commas always go INSIDE the closing quotation mark. (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)
fs2_s1	Capitalization: fix the three capital-letter mistakes. fruit arrives from central and south America.	Fruit arrives from Central and South America.	Capitalize the first word of the sentence and both parts of the place names Central America and South America. (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)
fs3_s1	Comma placement: move the comma to the right spot. "From up here, every container is a puzzle piece", Marcus Baptiste says.	"From up here, every container is a puzzle piece," Marcus Baptiste says.	When the tag comes after the quote, the comma goes INSIDE the closing quotation mark. (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)
fs4_s1	Grammar: fix the verb so it agrees with the subject. The cranes lifts heavy containers.	The cranes lift heavy containers.	“Cranes” is plural, so it needs the plural verb “lift,” not “lifts.” (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)
fs1_s2	Quotation punctuation: add the quotation marks around the fact sheet’s exact words. The Biscayne Bay Learning Network says, A tunnel under the bay opened in 2014.	The Biscayne Bay Learning Network says, "A tunnel under the bay opened in 2014."	The organization’s exact words go inside quotation marks, and the period goes inside the closing quotation mark. (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)
fs2_s2	Capitalization: fix the three capital-letter mistakes. my source is an article by marisol ortega.	My source is an article by Marisol Ortega.	Capitalize the first word of the sentence and both parts of the author’s name. (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)
fs3_s2	Comma placement: add the missing comma at the end of the quote. "If I put one in the wrong spot, the whole ship has to wait" Marcus Baptiste says.	"If I put one in the wrong spot, the whole ship has to wait," Marcus Baptiste says.	The tag comes after the quote, so a comma goes inside the closing quotation mark after “wait.” (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)
fs4_s2	Grammar: fix the their / there / they’re mistake. The families packed there suitcases for the cruise.	The families packed their suitcases for the cruise.	The suitcases belong to the families, so use the possessive “their.” (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
qt_s0	Quote this sentence starting with “Marisol Ortega writes”: Families with suitcases line up to board, ready for vacations in the Caribbean.	Marisol Ortega writes, "Families with suitcases line up to board, ready for vacations in the Caribbean."	Start with the tag, add a comma, then copy the exact words inside quotation marks with the period inside the closing quotation mark. (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
qt_s1	Quote this sentence starting with “The Biscayne Bay Learning Network says”: Most containers are either 20 feet or 40 feet long.	The Biscayne Bay Learning Network says, "Most containers are either 20 feet or 40 feet long."	Put a comma after the tag, then copy the exact words inside quotation marks. The period goes inside the closing quotation mark. (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)
qt_s2	Quote this sentence starting with “Marisol Ortega writes”: Trucks rumble through the tunnel under the water, and gulls circle above the docks.	Marisol Ortega writes, "Trucks rumble through the tunnel under the water, and gulls circle above the docks."	Put a comma after the tag, then copy every exact word (including the comma after “water”) inside quotation marks, with the period inside. (Checked exactly; straight or curly quotes and extra spaces are OK.)

WRITER’S TURN: SAY IT YOUR WAY (SETS 1–3)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
wt_s0	Paraphrase and name the source (Source B, paragraph 4, by Marisol Ortega): Fruits and vegetables from Central and South America must stay cold, so they ride inside refrigerated containers that plug into power on the ship.	Sample: Marisol Ortega explains that produce from Central and South America is kept chilled during the voyage in special boxes that get electricity from the ship.	A strong paraphrase names the author, keeps both ideas (the food and keeping it cold), and uses new words and a new sentence pattern. Names like Central and South America can stay the same. Auto-check rubric: at least 8 words; no 4 or more words in a row copied from the original (names count as one word); must include: ortega; fruit or vegetable or food or produce or banana or mango; cold or cool or chill or refrigerat or fridge or freez or fresh.
wt_s1	Paraphrase and name the source (Source A, “The tunnel,” by the Biscayne Bay Learning Network): The tunnel lets trucks drive straight to the port without crowding downtown streets.	Sample: According to the Biscayne Bay Learning Network, trucks use the tunnel to get right to the port so they stay out of the busy city center.	A strong paraphrase names the organization, keeps the key words “trucks” and “tunnel,” and says the rest in new words and a new sentence pattern. Auto-check rubric: at least 8 words; no 4 or more words in a row copied from the original (names count as one word); must include: biscayne or learning network or fact sheet; truck; tunnel.
wt_s2	Paraphrase and name the source (Source B, paragraph 2, by Marisol Ortega): A single container can be 40 feet long, about the length of a school bus.	Sample: Marisol Ortega explains that one of these steel boxes may stretch 40 feet, which is close to how long a school bus is.	A strong paraphrase names the author, keeps the number 40 and the school bus comparison, and changes the rest of the words and the sentence pattern. Auto-check rubric: at least 8 words; no 4 or more words in a row copied from the original (names count as one word); must include: ortega; 40 or forty; bus.

MATCH-UP ROUND (SETS 1–3, 2 POINTS EACH)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
ml_s0	Match: source	where information comes from	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
m2_s0	Match: quote	exact words inside quotation marks	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).
m3_s0	Match: paraphrase	an idea restated in your own words	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).
m4_s0	Match: plagiarism	using words or ideas without credit	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).
m5_s0	Match: citation	the title and author of a source	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).
m1_s1	Match: relevant	helps answer your question	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).
m2_s1	Match: quotation marks	go around copied words	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).
m3_s1	Match: research question	what you want to find out	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).
m4_s1	Match: key word	an important word that carries the idea	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).
m5_s1	Match: fact sheet	a page of quick facts	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).
m1_s2	Match: author	the person who wrote a source	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).
m2_s2	Match: organization	a group that can publish a source	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).
m3_s2	Match: paraphrase	an idea restated in your own words	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).
m4_s2	Match: plagiarism	using words or ideas without credit	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).
m5_s2	Match: cite	to name where information came from	2 points per first-try match (10 per set).

SPEED TRAIL (BONUS XP ONLY, NOT SCORED)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
tt1	Exact words copied from a source need ___.	Quotation marks	Copied words always go inside quotation marks.
tt2	Saying an idea in your own words is a ___.	Paraphrase	A paraphrase restates the idea in your own words.
tt3	Which is a simple citation?	“Giants of the Bay” by Marisol Ortega	A simple citation gives the title plus the author or organization.

BOSS CHALLENGE (SETS 1–3)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
b1_s0	Original (fact sheet): “More cruise passengers sail from Miami than from any other port on Earth.” Which note is BOTH a fair paraphrase AND cited correctly?	No port in the world has more cruise travelers than Miami. (Source: “Miami’s Busy Port: Fast Facts” by the Biscayne Bay Learning Network)	“No port in the world has more cruise travelers than Miami,” cited with the title and the Biscayne Bay Learning Network, keeps the meaning in new words. The note starting “More cruise passengers sail” copies without quotation marks, the note citing “the internet” has a vague citation, and the note saying Miami has fewer travelers changes the meaning.
b2_s0	Two-step: Ella wrote marcus baptiste says "if I put one in the wrong spot, the whole ship has to wait" Which list names ALL of her mistakes?	Capitalize Marcus Baptiste, add a comma after says, capitalize If, and add a period inside the closing quotation mark	Correct: Marcus Baptiste says, “If I put one in the wrong spot, the whole ship has to wait.” That fixes the capitals in his name, the comma after the tag, the capital at the start of the quote, and the period inside the closing quotation mark.
b1_s1	Kiara’s research question is “How do containers get on and off ships?” Which note is relevant AND written correctly?	Huge cranes pick up the metal boxes and move them between ships and trucks. (Source: “Giants of the Bay” by Marisol Ortega)	“Huge cranes pick up the metal boxes…,” cited with “Giants of the Bay” by Marisol Ortega, answers her question in her own words with a title and author. The suitcase note is not relevant and is copied, the “Each crane reaches out…” note is copied with no credit, and the note citing “a magazine” has a vague citation.
b2_s1	Two-step: Marco wrote the biscayne bay learning network says "a tunnel under the bay opened in 2014". Which list names ALL of his mistakes?	Capitalize The and Biscayne Bay Learning Network, add a comma after says, capitalize A, and move the period inside the quotation mark	Correct: The Biscayne Bay Learning Network says, “A tunnel under the bay opened in 2014.” That fixes the capital at the start, the capitals in the organization’s name, the comma after the tag, the capital at the start of the quote, and the period inside the closing quotation mark.
b1_s2	Jada paraphrased the article in her own words but did NOT name Marisol Ortega or the article’s title. Which explanation is correct?	She still needs to cite the source, because the idea came from Marisol Ortega even though the words are Jada’s own.	Using someone else’s idea without credit is still plagiarism. A paraphrase changes the words, not who the idea belongs to, so it needs a citation.
b2_s2	Two-step: Original (article): “Many of the containers are packed with food.” Theo wrote: Many of the containers are packed with snacks. (Source: “Giants of the Bay” by Marisol Ortega) What TWO problems does his note have?	He copied most of the words without quotation marks, and he changed the meaning from food to snacks.	Theo copied seven words in a row (“Many of the containers are packed with”) without quotation marks, and the article says “food,” not “snacks,” so his note also changes the meaning.

Pre & Post sheet answer guide

Many items are open-ended. Grade for genuine understanding and complete sentences, not exact wording.

PRE-LESSON WARM-UP

#	Prompt	Model answer / grading note
1	Which sentence is a QUOTE?	Ms. Rivera says, "Big ships need deep water." (exact words inside quotation marks)
2	Add quotation marks.	The article says, "Cranes can lift very heavy boxes."
3	What does it mean to paraphrase?	To restate someone else's idea in your own words (and still name the source). Accept any answer that says "in your own words."
4	Copying with no quotation marks and no source is...	plagiarism
5	Review: Which sentence is a simile?	The ship was as big as a mountain. (uses "as")

POST-LESSON CHALLENGE

#	Prompt	Model answer / grading note
1	Punctuate the quotation.	Marisol Ortega writes, "The port is a meeting place for the whole world."
2	Mateo's copied note: quote, paraphrase, or plagiarism?	Plagiarism. Fix it by adding quotation marks and naming the source (The Biscayne Bay Learning Network says, "Some containers work like giant refrigerators.") or by paraphrasing it in his own words and naming the source.
3	Most relevant fact for "How do cruise ships leave Miami?"	Cruise ships sail out through Government Cut, past the tip of Miami Beach.
4	Simple citation for the article.	"Giants of the Bay" by Marisol Ortega
5	Paraphrase the 50-foot channel sentence and explain why a paraphrase fits.	Grading note: names the source (the Biscayne Bay Learning Network or the fact sheet); keeps both ideas (50 feet deep; big cargo ships can get in); no 4 or more words in a row copied (names and numbers can stay). Sample: The Biscayne Bay Learning Network explains that the waterway into the port was made 50 feet deep, so huge cargo ships can get all the way in. Reason: it is a plain fact, not special wording, so it sounds better in my own words.

★ CHALLENGE

#	Prompt	Model answer / grading note
1	Two-source paragraph with one quote and one paraphrase.	Grading note: one quote with exact words, quotation marks, a comma after the tag, and the end mark inside; one paraphrase in the student's own words with the source named; facts relevant to the topic; a simple citation (title + author or organization) for each source.
