PRE-LESSON WARM-UP · DO THIS BEFORE YOUR COMPUTER LESSON

Pre-Lesson Warm-Up: Words That Paint Pictures

Today you will visit a summer fiddle camp in Nashville, Tennessee, and read a story and a poem full of colorful language. Show what you already know. It is fine to guess!

1. Review (Week 22): Which sentence comes from a firsthand account? Explain how you know. a) "We held our breath as the rocket shook beneath us." b) "The rocket launched from Florida on July 16, 1969."

2. Is this sentence literal (exactly true) or figurative (paints a picture)? "The practice room was a refrigerator." What does it really mean?

3. Which sentence uses the word like or as to compare two things?

   The banjo twanged loudly. | Her voice was as sweet as honey. | The concert starts at seven.

4. People say a nervous person has "butterflies in their stomach." Write another saying you know, and tell what it really means.

5. Write one sentence about a time you felt nervous. Make your reader feel it by comparing your feeling to something else.

POST-LESSON CHALLENGE · DO THIS AFTER YOUR COMPUTER LESSON

Post-Lesson Activity: Figurative Language Explainer

Write in complete sentences with correct capitals, commas, and quotation marks.

1. Name each kind (simile, metaphor, personification, hyperbole, or idiom) and what it really means. a) The tuba grumbled in the corner. b) My banjo case weighs a million pounds.

2. Find the mistake. Alvin wrote: "'Her fingers flew like sparrows' is a metaphor." What is wrong? Fix his explanation.

3. Be the editor. Rewrite each sentence correctly. a) In the story Butterflies in Music City, Adisa plays a solo. b) "Take a deep breath" Mr. Aldo said. c) The fiddles and the guitar sounds great together.

4. Writing: In 4 or 5 sentences, explain how the figurative language in "Butterflies in Music City" shows Adisa's feelings changing. Quote one line correctly, and begin one sentence with However.

★ Challenge: Write 3 sentences about a thunderstorm at camp: one simile, one metaphor, and one personification.

Looking Ahead: Week 24: Character change and inference. In a fishing town in Sitka, Alaska, you will use text clues to track how a girl changes and what her change teaches.
