PRE-LESSON WARM-UP · DO THIS BEFORE YOUR COMPUTER LESSON

Pre-Lesson Warm-Up: What Do I Already Know?

Write what you know right now. Guesses are fine; this is your starting point.

1. Review (Week 27): Name one group that organized for equal rights in the 1960s or 1970s, and one law or win it helped bring about.

2. A "cold war" is a rivalry without a full war between the two main sides. Why might two powerful nations compete without fighting each other directly?

3. Prediction: If a rival country launched the first satellite into space, how might Americans feel, and what might they do next?

4. What do you already know about space travel or the Moon landing? Write two facts or guesses.

5. Write one question you have about the Cold War, the Space Race or the Berlin Wall.

POST-LESSON CHALLENGE · DO THIS AFTER YOUR COMPUTER LESSON

Post-Lesson Activity: A Cold War Without a Battle

Use evidence from today's lesson. Write in complete sentences.

1. Put in order with years: Berlin Wall opens; Sputnik 1 launches; Berlin Airlift begins; Apollo 11 lands on the Moon; Cuban Missile Crisis.

2. Find the mistake. "Alan Shepard was the first person to orbit Earth, in 1957." Rewrite the sentence so it is true.

3. Compare two sources. The Space Act (1958) says space should be used "for peaceful purposes." Kennedy (1961) set a goal of reaching the Moon "before this decade is out." How is a law different from a speech?

4. Write a paragraph. Choose Katherine Johnson, Mary Jackson, Yuri Gagarin, Sally Ride or Guion Bluford. In 3 or 4 sentences, tell what barrier this person faced or broke and why it mattered. Check capitals, commas and end punctuation.

★ Challenge: Two steps: The Berlin Wall went up in 1961 and opened 28 years later. Germany was reunified the next year. In what year was Germany reunified? Show your work.

Looking Ahead: Next week: a changing nation (1965–today), from the Immigration Act of 1965 and the computer age to the first Earth Day and ways young people take part in civic life.
