Three Tales, Three Places — Teacher Lesson Plan & Answer Key

Learning objectives: Students identify a folktale (a made-up story passed down out loud for many generations, from a culture, often with repeating patterns and a lesson), retell a folktale in order with a beginning, middle and end, accurately and respectfully, determine the central message and prove it with a detail, and compare tales from three cultures.

Duration: 35–45 minutes
Materials: Computer or tablet with the lesson open · pencil · printed Pre & Post sheet

Lesson flow (as it appears on screen)

1. Title and name: the student types first and last name so results go to KingCretot Experience. Read the Pathway Points rules together: 2 tries per question, points only for a correct first try, and the answer and reason appear after a second miss. Introduce Family Story Night at the John F. Germany Public Library in downtown Tampa, Florida, where the librarian Mr. Federico has asked Fafa (Ghana), Fernando (Puerto Rico) and Fallon (Japan) to share folktales from their families' cultures.
2. Warm-Up, Part 1: Unit 5 Review (6 pts, 3 each): sequence and cause and effect in a short Story Night text (a different text in each set).
3. Warm-Up, Part 2 (6 pts, 3 each): two more sequence or cause-and-effect items with the same text, including a find-the-mistake or which-explanation item.
4. Pencil Break (Pre): the student opens or prints the Pre/Post sheet (grade3/prepost/KCE_Reading_PrePost_G3W26.pdf) and completes Page 1 (Pre) before any teaching. Do not help with answers; it shows what they already know.
5. Word Wrangler: 6 vocabulary cards (folktale, culture, wisdom, embarrassed, generations, journey), each with a sentence from the reading.
6. Picture It: Three Tales, Three Places. Anansi, the clever spider (Ghana); Juan Bobo, the silly boy (Puerto Rico); Momotarō, the brave hero (Japan). Retelling clues: beginning, middle and end in your own words. Central message clues: what does the character learn? Ask: where does this tale come from, and what is the lesson?
7. Read: Three Tales, Three Places (Tale 1, Anansi and the Pot of Wisdom, told by Fafa; Tale 2, Juan Bobo and His Pay, told by Fernando; Tale 3, Momotarō, the Peach Boy, told by Fallon). After each tale ask: what happens first, next and last? What does the main character learn?
8. What Is a Folktale?, Part 1 (6 pts, 3 each): made up, passed down out loud, from a culture; which tale comes from where; why Juan Bobo's tale is a folktale and not a biography.
9. What Is a Folktale?, Part 2 (3 pts): "long ago" does not make a story true, folktale characters can be people or animals, and storytellers tell a tale in different ways (in one old version Anansi's son is named Kweku Tsin).
10. Retelling a Folktale, Part 1 (6 pts, 3 each): the best beginning, Juan Bobo's pay in order (coins, milk, cheese, ham), Momotarō's animals in order (dog, monkey, pheasant), and the least important detail.
11. Retelling a Folktale, Part 2 (3 pts): a retelling must not change events, covers the whole story in the student's own words, and uses the real names of foods (kibi dango), never calling them weird.

12. Finding the Central Message, Part 1 (6 pts, 3 each): the message of each tale and the detail that best supports a message. Tip: problem, what happens, what the character learns, then say the lesson as a full sentence.
13. Finding the Central Message, Part 2 (3 pts): a topic like “peaches” is not a message, and Juan Bobo’s lesson is that advice must fit the situation.
14. Comparing Tales From Three Cultures, Part 1 (6 pts, 3 each): how all three are alike, which two tales repeat a pattern, which tale explains why something is the way it is. Anansi and Momotarō teach about sharing from opposite sides.
15. Comparing Tales From Three Cultures, Part 2 (3 pts): the three tales come from three places, and a respectful comparison never lets one story character stand for all the people of a culture.
16. Word Work Bonus, Part 1: The Suffix -ful (XP only, not scored).
17. Word Work Bonus, Part 2: The Suffix -ful (XP only, not scored).
18. Match-Up Round (10 pts, 2 per first-try match): Set 1 matches folktale words to meanings, Set 2 matches characters to what they did, Set 3 matches tales and names to their places and meanings.
19. Fix the Sentence (10 pts, 5 each): each item names the one kind of fix (capital letters for names and places, list commas, a past-tense verb, an end mark, or one verb). The whole sentence is checked exactly; curly quotes and extra spaces are forgiven. The corrected sentence appears after the 2nd miss.
20. Type-It Corral, Part 1 (8 pts, 4 each): typed vocabulary and text-detail answers; capital letters and a final period do not matter, but spelling does. The “Look back” panel is allowed.
21. Type-It Corral, Part 2 (4 pts): one more typed answer, a two-step word problem, same checking rules.
22. Speed Arena, Part 1 (XP only, not scored).
23. Speed Arena, Part 2 and Keyboard Corral (XP only, not scored).
24. Boss Battle, Part 1: Story Night Showdown (10 pts, 5 each): a two-step sequence item about Juan Bobo’s cheese, a central message with a supporting detail, what caused the wisdom to spread, and typed answers (wisdom, dogs, or a two-step treasure-bags problem).
25. Boss Battle, Part 2: Story Night Showdown (10 pts, 5 each): find-the-mistake items (the animals out of order; an event is not a message), comparing Anansi’s and Juan Bobo’s mistakes, and typed words (Peach, ogres, Rico).
26. Pencil Break (Post): the student turns to Page 2 (Post) of the same sheet (grade3/prepost/KCE_Reading_PrePost_G3W26.pdf) and completes it, plus the ★ Challenge if time allows, before seeing the score. The sheet buttons let the student open or print it again.
27. Results (Story Night Star!): the score out of 100 is sent to KingCretot Experience. 85 or higher shows “Folktale Master!” with the congratulations message “Folktale master!” and a big confetti burst; below 85 shows “Great Effort Today!” with encouragement (“Even Anansi learned something new from a child. Keep learning, and you will get there!”), and the next attempt brings a fresh question set (sets rotate 1, 2, 3). Both messages remind the student to finish the Post-Lesson Challenge sheet.

Lesson answer key with reasoning

Every scored item the student sees, in order, across all three rotating question sets. Each item allows 2 tries and earns Pathway Points only on a correct first try. The "why" is the same reasoning shown on screen after a second missed try.

WARM-UP: UNIT 5 REVIEW (3 POINTS EACH)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
w1_s0	Set 1: Setting Up for Story Night First, Mr. Federico pushed the tables against the wall. Then he spread a big rug on the floor. Because the rug was soft, the little kids sat right down on it. Finally, he put a lamp beside the storyteller's chair. What did Mr. Federico do FIRST? [He pushed the tables against the wall. / He spread a big rug on the floor. / He put a lamp beside the chair. / He sat down on the rug.]	He pushed the tables against the wall.	The word First comes right before "pushed the tables against the wall."
w2_s0	Set 1: Type your answer: Read: "Because the rug was soft, the little kids sat right down on it." The cause is that the rug was ___.	soft	Because comes right before the cause. The rug was soft, so the kids sat down.
w3_s0	Set 1: Find the mistake! Faisal says, "The lamp came first, because it is the most important part." What went wrong? [Sequence is about time order, not importance. The lamp came last. / The text has no lamp. / The rug came after the lamp. / Nothing went wrong.]	Sequence is about time order, not importance. The lamp came last.	The word Finally tells us the lamp came last. Order is about time, not about which part matters most.
w4_s0	Set 1: Type your answer: Type the time-order word that tells the LAST step.	finally	Finally signals the last step in a sequence.
w1_s1	Set 2: The Late Bus The city bus was late because of a rainstorm. As a result, Fernando's family got to the library ten minutes late. Fernando was worried, so he practiced his story in his head on the way. When he walked in, he was relieved. Story Night had not started yet! Type your answer: Why was the city bus late? Because of a ___.	rainstorm (also accepted: storm, rain, rain storm)	The text says the bus was late because of a rainstorm.
w2_s1	Set 2: What was an EFFECT of the late bus? [Fernando's family got to the library ten minutes late. / It started to rain. / Story Night started without Fernando. / Fernando forgot his story.]	Fernando's family got to the library ten minutes late.	As a result signals the effect: the family got to the library ten minutes late.
w3_s1	Set 2: Type your answer: Read: "Fernando was worried, so he practiced his story in his head." Type the signal word that comes before the effect.	so	So comes right before the effect: he practiced his story.

w4_s1	Set 2: Which explanation is correct? Felicia says, "The rainstorm caused the late bus, and the late bus caused Fernando to worry." Faisal says, "Fernando's worrying caused the rainstorm." [Felicia is right, because each effect becomes the cause of the next event / Faisal is right, because worry comes first / Faisal is right, because storms are caused by people / Neither is right, because there are no causes in this text]	Felicia is right, because each effect becomes the cause of the next event	This is a cause-and-effect chain: rainstorm, then late bus, then worry. A boy's worry cannot cause a storm.
w1_s2	Set 3: Fallon's Paper Peach On Monday, Fallon cut a big peach shape out of orange paper. On Tuesday, she painted it, but she used too much water, so the paper tore. On Wednesday, she made a new peach out of thick cardboard. On Thursday, she brought it to the library. What did Fallon do on Tuesday? [She painted the paper peach. / She cut out the peach shape. / She made a cardboard peach. / She brought the peach to the library.]	She painted the paper peach.	The text says: On Tuesday, she painted it.
w2_s2	Set 3: Type your answer: The paper tore because Fallon used too much ___.	water	She used too much water, so the paper tore. Too much water was the cause.
w3_s2	Set 3: Type your answer: On which day did Fallon make the cardboard peach?	Wednesday (also accepted: on Wednesday)	The text says: On Wednesday, she made a new peach out of thick cardboard.
w4_s2	Set 3: Find the mistake! Felicia made this order: Tuesday, painted the peach → Monday, cut the peach → Thursday, brought it to the library. What went wrong? [Monday comes before Tuesday, so cutting the peach should be first. / Thursday should be first. / Fallon never painted the peach. / Nothing went wrong.]	Monday comes before Tuesday, so cutting the peach should be first.	Days of the week go in order: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday.

WHAT IS A FOLKTALE? (3 POINTS EACH)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
t1a_s0	Set 1: Type your answer: A made-up story that people told out loud for many generations is called a ___.	folktale (also accepted: a folktale, folk tale, a folk tale)	A folktale is a made-up story passed down out loud for many generations.
t1b_s0	Set 1: Which tale comes from the Akan people of Ghana? [Anansi and the Pot of Wisdom / Juan Bobo and His Pay / Momotarō, the Peach Boy / All three tales]	Anansi and the Pot of Wisdom	Fafa's tale is from the Akan people of Ghana. Juan Bobo is from Puerto Rico, and Momotarō is from Japan.
t1c_s0	Set 1: Find the mistake! Faisal says, "Momotarō is a true story, because it begins with long ago in Japan." What went wrong? [Starting with long ago does not make a story true. A folktale is made up. / Momotarō does not happen in Japan. / Folktales are always true. / Nothing went wrong.]	Starting with long ago does not make a story true. A folktale is made up.	Many folktales begin with long ago. That tells when the story is set, not that it really happened.

t1a_s1	Set 2: How did folktales first travel from older people to younger people? [People told them out loud. / People sent them by email. / People watched them on TV. / People only read them in books.]	People told them out loud.	Folktales were told out loud for many generations before they were written down.
t1b_s1	Set 2: Type your answer: Momotarō is a folktale from the country of ___.	Japan	Fallon's tale is from Japan. Her grandmother grew up in Okayama, Japan.
t1c_s1	Set 2: Which explanation is correct? Felicia says, "Folktale characters can be people, animals, or both." Faisal says, "It is only a folktale if it has a talking animal." [Felicia is right, because Juan Bobo and His Pay has only people and is still a folktale / Faisal is right, because every folktale has a spider / Faisal is right, because people cannot be in folktales / Neither is right, because folktales have no characters]	Felicia is right, because Juan Bobo and His Pay has only people and is still a folktale	Anansi is a spider and Momotarō has animal friends, but Juan Bobo's tale has only people. All three are folktales.
t1a_s2	Set 3: Type your answer: The Akan people call folktales Anansesem, which means ___ stories.	spider	Fafa's tale says Anansesem means spider stories, named for Anansi.
t1b_s2	Set 3: Which detail tells you Juan Bobo and His Pay is a folktale, not a biography? [Juan Bobo is a story character, not a real person, and storytellers tell the tale in different ways. / Juan Bobo has a mother. / Juan Bobo gets paid for work. / The tale has cheese in it.]	Juan Bobo is a story character, not a real person, and storytellers tell the tale in different ways.	A biography tells about a real person. Fernando's tale says Juan Bobo is not a real person.
t1c_s2	Set 3: Find the mistake! Felicia says, "There is only one right way to tell Anansi and the Pot of Wisdom, so Anansi's son always has the same name." What went wrong? [Storytellers tell folktales in different ways. In one old version, the son is named Kweku Tsin, not Ntikuma. / Anansi has no son in the tale. / Folktales are never told out loud. / Nothing went wrong.]	Storytellers tell folktales in different ways. In one old version, the son is named Kweku Tsin, not Ntikuma.	Because folktales were passed down out loud, details like names can change from one telling to another.

RETELLING A FOLKTALE (3 POINTS EACH)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
t2a_s0	Set 1: Which is the best BEGINNING for a retelling of Momotarō? [An old woman found a giant peach in the river, and inside was a baby boy. / The ogre chief gave up. / The pheasant is a colorful bird. / The village celebrated.]	An old woman found a giant peach in the river, and inside was a baby boy.	The beginning tells who the story is about and how it starts. The ogre chief and the celebration come at the end.
t2b_s0	Set 1: Type your answer: In Juan Bobo and His Pay, after the milk leaked out of the sack, the grocer paid Juan with ___.	cheese (also accepted: a piece of cheese, a big piece of cheese)	The order of his pay was coins, then milk, then cheese, then a ham.

t2c_s0	Set 1: Find the mistake! Faisal retells: “Anansi tied the pot on his back, climbed the tree easily, and hid the wisdom forever.” What went wrong? [He changed the important events. Anansi tied the pot on his front, could not climb, and the pot broke. / He used too many words. / Anansi never had a pot. / Nothing went wrong.]	He changed the important events. Anansi tied the pot on his front, could not climb, and the pot broke.	A retelling must not change what happens. In the tale, Anansi’s son suggested the back, and the wisdom spread everywhere.
t2a_s1	Set 2: Which list shows Juan Bobo’s pay in the right order? [coins, milk, cheese, ham / milk, coins, ham, cheese / ham, cheese, milk, coins / cheese, coins, milk, ham]	coins, milk, cheese, ham	Fernando’s tale goes in this order: coins for picking coffee beans, a pail of milk, a piece of cheese, then a whole ham.
t2b_s1	Set 2: Type your answer: In Momotarō, the FIRST animal to join the team was the ___.	dog (also accepted: a dog, the dog)	Momotarō met the dog first, then the monkey, then the pheasant.
t2c_s1	Set 2: Which explanation is correct? Felicia retells the beginning, middle, and end of Anansi in her own words. Faisal copies only the first paragraph, word for word. [Felicia’s retelling is better, because it tells the whole story in order, in her own words / Faisal’s is better, because copying is always best / Faisal’s is better, because the first paragraph is the whole story / Neither is good, because retellings should be very long]	Felicia’s retelling is better, because it tells the whole story in order, in her own words	A retelling covers the beginning, middle, and end, in your own words. The first paragraph is only the beginning.
t2a_s2	Set 3: Type your answer: At the beginning of Fafa’s tale, Anansi gathered all the ___ in the world.	wisdom	The tale begins: Anansi decided to gather all the wisdom in the world.
t2b_s2	Set 3: Which detail is LEAST important for a short retelling of Momotarō? [The old man went to the mountains to gather firewood. / Momotarō shared dumplings with three animals. / The team beat the ogres together. / Momotarō was found inside a giant peach.]	The old man went to the mountains to gather firewood.	Where the old man went is a small detail. The other events are needed to tell the story.
t2c_s2	Set 3: Which retelling is accurate and respectful? Felicia: “Momotarō made friends by sharing kibi dango, millet dumplings his mother made.” Faisal: “Momotarō gave out some weird snacks.” [Felicia’s, because it uses the real name of the food and tells what happened / Faisal’s, because it is shorter / Faisal’s, because the food name does not matter / Neither, because food is not in the tale]	Felicia’s, because it uses the real name of the food and tells what happened	A respectful retelling uses the real names of foods and things from the culture, and never calls them weird.

FINDING THE CENTRAL MESSAGE (3 POINTS EACH)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
t3a_s0	Set 1: What is the central message of Anansi and the Pot of Wisdom? [No one has all the wisdom, so it is better to share and to learn from others. / Spiders are good at climbing trees. / Clay pots break easily. / Always climb the tallest tree.]	No one has all the wisdom, so it is better to share and to learn from others.	Anansi tried to keep all the wisdom, but a child knew something he did not. The lesson is about sharing and learning from others.

t3b_s0	Set 1: Type your answer: In Fafa's telling, Anansi learned something important from his young son, ___.	Ntikuma	Ntikuma called up, "Why don't you tie the pot on your back?"
t3c_s0	Set 1: Find the mistake! Felicia says, "The central message of Momotarō is peaches." What went wrong? [Peaches is a topic. A central message is a lesson written as a full sentence. / There are no peaches in the tale. / Momotarō has no message. / Nothing went wrong.]	Peaches is a topic. A central message is a lesson written as a full sentence.	A message is a lesson, like "Working together helps us do hard things." One word cannot be a lesson.
t3a_s1	Set 2: What is the central message of Juan Bobo and His Pay? [Advice only helps when it fits the situation, so think before you act. / Never take a job. / Cheese is better than ham. / Always carry things in a sack.]	Advice only helps when it fits the situation, so think before you act.	Each piece of advice fit the last thing Juan carried, not the next one. He needed to think about each new problem.
t3b_s1	Set 2: Which detail BEST supports the message "Sharing and working together helps us do hard things"? [Momotarō shared a dumpling with each animal, and together they beat the ogres. / The old woman washed clothes in the river. / Momotarō's name means Peach Boy. / The ogres lived on an island.]	Momotarō shared a dumpling with each animal, and together they beat the ogres.	This detail shows both sharing (the dumplings) and working together (beating the ogres as a team).
t3c_s1	Set 2: Type your answer: In Momotarō, each animal joined the team after Momotarō shared a ___.	dumpling (also accepted: kibi dango, millet dumpling, dumplings)	He shared a kibi dango, a millet dumpling, with the dog, the monkey, and the pheasant.
t3a_s2	Set 3: What is the central message of Momotarō, the Peach Boy? [When we share and work together, we can do hard things that no one could do alone. / Peaches grow in rivers. / Ogres live on islands. / Dogs are better than monkeys.]	When we share and work together, we can do hard things that no one could do alone.	Momotarō shared his dumplings, and each friend used a different skill. Together they did what no one could do alone.
t3b_s2	Set 3: Type your answer: Juan Bobo's cheese melted because he carried it on his ___ in the hot sun.	head (also accepted: his head)	His mother had said to carry the milk on his head. Juan used that advice for the cheese, and it melted.
t3c_s2	Set 3: Which explanation is correct? Faisal says, "The message of Juan Bobo is never listen to your mother." Felicia says, "The message is that advice must fit the situation, so you have to think." [Felicia is right, because each piece of advice was good for the thing Juan had just carried / Faisal is right, because his mother gave bad advice / Faisal is right, because Juan never listened / Neither is right, because the tale has no message]	Felicia is right, because each piece of advice was good for the thing Juan had just carried	A sack is fine for coins, and a head is fine for a pail. Juan's mistake was using old advice for new things without thinking.

COMPARING TALES FROM THREE CULTURES (3 POINTS EACH)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
t4a_s0	Set 1: How are all three tales ALIKE? [They were passed down out loud, and each one teaches a lesson. / They all come from Japan. / They all have a talking spider. / They are all true stories.]	They were passed down out loud, and each one teaches a lesson.	All three are folktales: made up, passed down out loud, and each teaches a lesson.
t4b_s0	Set 1: Type your answer: Anansi is a clever spider, Juan Bobo is a silly boy, and Momotarō is a brave ___.	hero (also accepted: a hero, boy)	Momotarō is a brave hero who beats the ogres with his friends.
t4c_s0	Set 1: Find the mistake! Faisal says, "All three tales come from the same country." What went wrong? [The tales come from three different places: Ghana, Puerto Rico, and Japan. / They all come from Ghana. / Folktales do not come from any place. / Nothing went wrong.]	The tales come from three different places: Ghana, Puerto Rico, and Japan.	Fafa's tale is from Ghana, Fernando's is from Puerto Rico, and Fallon's is from Japan.
t4a_s1	Set 2: Which TWO tales use a pattern of events that repeat? [Juan Bobo and His Pay and Momotarō / Anansi and the Pot of Wisdom only / None of the tales / Only Momotarō]	Juan Bobo and His Pay and Momotarō	Juan Bobo goes to work four times, and Momotarō meets three animals, one after another.
t4b_s1	Set 2: Type your answer: Two main characters learn from their mistakes: Anansi and Juan ___.	Bobo	Anansi learns he does not have all the wisdom, and Juan Bobo's mistakes teach him to think.
t4c_s1	Set 2: Which explanation is correct? Felicia says, "Anansi and Momotarō both teach about sharing: Anansi will not share and fails, but Momotarō shares and succeeds." Faisal says, "They teach about sharing in the same way, because both have food." [Felicia is right, because the two tales show sharing from opposite sides / Faisal is right, because both have food / Faisal is right, because both are spiders / Neither is right, because neither tale is about sharing]	Felicia is right, because the two tales show sharing from opposite sides	Anansi keeps the wisdom to himself and loses it. Momotarō shares his dumplings and wins. Same topic, opposite paths.
t4a_s2	Set 3: Which tale explains WHY something in the world is the way it is? [Anansi and the Pot of Wisdom, which explains why everyone has a little wisdom / Juan Bobo and His Pay, which explains why cheese melts / Momotarō, which explains why peaches are round / None of the tales]	Anansi and the Pot of Wisdom, which explains why everyone has a little wisdom	The Anansi tale ends: That is why no one has all the wisdom, but everyone has a little.
t4b_s2	Set 3: Type your answer: How many animal friends joined Momotarō? (Type the number.)	3 (also accepted: three)	A dog, a monkey, and a pheasant: 3 animal friends.
t4c_s2	Set 3: Which sentence compares the tales accurately and respectfully? [Each culture tells lesson stories in its own way, with its own kinds of characters. / The Juan Bobo tale shows that people from Puerto Rico are silly. / The Anansi tale shows that people from Ghana are tricky. / Only one of these cultures has good stories.]	Each culture tells lesson stories in its own way, with its own kinds of characters.	One story character never stands for real people. Juan Bobo is a funny character, and every culture has wonderful tales.

MATCH-UP ROUND (2 POINTS PER FIRST-TRY MATCH)

match_s0_1	Set 1: Match Folktale	a made-up story passed down out loud	2 points if matched on the first try.
match_s0_2	Set 1: Match Central message	the big lesson a story teaches	2 points if matched on the first try.
match_s0_3	Set 1: Match Retell	to tell a story again in your own words	2 points if matched on the first try.
match_s0_4	Set 1: Match Culture	the way of life of a group of people	2 points if matched on the first try.
match_s0_5	Set 1: Match Wisdom	good sense and clever thinking	2 points if matched on the first try.
match_s1_1	Set 2: Match Ntikuma	told his father to tie the pot on his back	2 points if matched on the first try.
match_s1_2	Set 2: Match Juan Bobo	dragged a ham home on a string	2 points if matched on the first try.
match_s1_3	Set 2: Match The old woman	found a giant peach in the river	2 points if matched on the first try.
match_s1_4	Set 2: Match The pheasant	joined Momotarō for a dumpling	2 points if matched on the first try.
match_s1_5	Set 2: Match Anansi	tried to hide all the wisdom in a tree	2 points if matched on the first try.
match_s2_1	Set 3: Match Anansi and the Pot of Wisdom	the Akan people of Ghana	2 points if matched on the first try.
match_s2_2	Set 3: Match Juan Bobo and His Pay	Puerto Rico	2 points if matched on the first try.
match_s2_3	Set 3: Match Momotarō, the Peach Boy	Japan	2 points if matched on the first try.
match_s2_4	Set 3: Match Anansesem	spider stories	2 points if matched on the first try.
match_s2_5	Set 3: Match Okayama Station	a statue of Momotarō and his friends	2 points if matched on the first try.

FIX THE SENTENCE (5 POINTS EACH)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
fx1_s0	Set 1: Fix the sentence. A name and a place need capital letters. anansi stories come from ghana.	Anansi stories come from Ghana.	Anansi is a name, and Ghana is the name of a country. Names start with capital letters, and so does the first word of a sentence.
fx2_s0	Set 1: Fix the sentence. Add commas to separate the things in the list. Fallon's tale has a dog a monkey and a pheasant.	Fallon's tale has a dog, a monkey, and a pheasant. (also accepted: Fallon's tale has a dog, a monkey and a pheasant.)	Use commas to separate three or more things in a list: a dog, a monkey, and a pheasant.
fx1_s1	Set 2: Fix the sentence. Fix the verb so the sentence tells about the past. Juan Bobo carry the cheese on his head.	Juan Bobo carried the cheese on his head.	The tale happened in the past, so carry changes to carried. Change the y to i and add -ed.

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
fx2_s1	Set 2: Fix the sentence. This sentence asks a question. Fix the end mark. Why did Anansi climb the tree.	Why did Anansi climb the tree?	A sentence that asks something ends with a question mark.
fx1_s2	Set 3: Fix the sentence. A name and a place need capital letters. fernando's grandparents grew up in puerto rico.	Fernando's grandparents grew up in Puerto Rico.	Fernando is a name, and both words in Puerto Rico start with capital letters.
fx2_s2	Set 3: Fix the sentence. Fix the one grammar mistake. The dog and the monkey was hungry.	The dog and the monkey were hungry.	The dog and the monkey are two animals, so use were, not was.

TYPE-IT CORRAL (4 POINTS EACH)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
ty1_s0	Set 1: Type your answer: For his second job, Juan Bobo was paid with a pail of ___.	milk	The dairy farmer paid Juan with a pail of milk, and he poured it into a sack.
ty2_s0	Set 1: Type your answer: Momotarō's mother made millet dumplings called kibi ___.	dango	Kibi dango are millet dumplings. Today they are a well-known treat in Okayama.
ty3_s0	Set 1: Type your answer: Two steps: Suppose Momotarō started with 10 dumplings and gave 1 to each animal friend he met. How many dumplings would be left? (Type the number.)	7 (also accepted: seven)	He met 3 animals: the dog, the monkey, and the pheasant. 10 minus 3 equals 7.
ty1_s1	Set 2: Type your answer: Anansi tried to hide the pot at the top of the tallest ___ in the forest.	tree	Fafa's tale says he decided to hide the pot at the top of the tallest tree in the forest.
ty2_s1	Set 2: Type your answer: The statue of Momotarō stands in front of the train station in the city of ___.	Okayama	Fallon's tale says the statue stands in front of Okayama Station in Okayama, Japan.
ty3_s1	Set 2: Type your answer: Two steps: Fafa, Fernando, and Fallon each told one tale. Each tale took 8 minutes. Then Mr. Federico talked for 6 minutes. How many minutes was that in all? (Type the number.)	30 (also accepted: thirty, 30 minutes)	First multiply: 3 tales times 8 minutes equals 24. Then add 6: 24 plus 6 equals 30 minutes.
ty1_s2	Set 3: Type your answer: Juan Bobo's coins fell out because his pocket had ___.	holes	Fernando's tale says Juan's pocket had holes, so every coin fell out.

BOSS BATTLE: STORY NIGHT SHOWDOWN (5 POINTS EACH)

ID	Question	Answer	Why (explain to student)
b1_s0	Set 1: Two steps: Which TWO things happened right after Juan Bobo carried the cheese on his head? [The cheese melted, and his mother told him to tie a string around his next pay. / The coins fell out, and his mother gave him a sack. / The milk leaked, and his mother told him to use his head. / The dogs ate the ham, and only the string was left.]	The cheese melted, and his mother told him to tie a string around his next pay.	First the cheese melted in the hot sun. Then his mother said, "Next time, tie a string around it."
b2_s0	Set 1: Type your answer: At the end of Fafa's tale, Anansi learned that no one has all the ___.	wisdom	The tale ends: no one has all the wisdom, but everyone has a little.
b3_s0	Set 1: Find the mistake! Felicia retells: "Momotarō met a monkey, then a dog, then a pheasant." What went wrong? [The order is wrong. Momotarō met the dog first, then the monkey, then the pheasant. / Momotarō never met a pheasant. / Momotarō met four animals. / Nothing went wrong.]	The order is wrong. Momotarō met the dog first, then the monkey, then the pheasant.	A retelling keeps events in order. Fallon's tale says the dog came first.
b4_s0	Set 1: Type your answer: The name Momotarō means ___ Boy.	Peach	Momotarō means Peach Boy, because he was found inside a giant peach.
b1_s1	Set 2: Which sentence states the central message of Juan Bobo AND gives a detail from the tale? [Advice must fit the situation: Juan poured milk into a sack because the sack had worked for coins. / Juan Bobo lived in Puerto Rico. / Juan poured milk into a sack. / Advice must fit the situation.]	Advice must fit the situation: Juan poured milk into a sack because the sack had worked for coins.	The best answer has both the lesson and a detail that proves it. The others have only one of the two.
b2_s1	Set 2: Type your answer: In Juan Bobo and His Pay, the neighborhood cats and ___ ate the ham.	dogs (also accepted: the dogs)	The neighborhood cats and dogs followed Juan and nibbled all the way home.
b3_s1	Set 2: Which explanation is correct? Felicia says, "Anansi and Juan Bobo both make mistakes, but Anansi's comes from wanting to keep everything, and Juan's comes from not thinking about each new problem." Faisal says, "They make the exact same mistake." [Felicia is right, because the two characters make different kinds of mistakes / Faisal is right, because both carry a pot / Faisal is right, because both are spiders / Neither is right, because neither makes a mistake]	Felicia is right, because the two characters make different kinds of mistakes	Anansi did not want to share. Juan used old advice without thinking. Both learned, but from different mistakes.
b4_s1	Set 2: Type your answer: The ogres lived on Onigashima, the Island of ___.	Ogres (also accepted: the ogres)	Fallon's tale says the ogres lived on Onigashima, the Island of Ogres.

[Anansi threw the pot down, and it broke. / Anansi went from place to place. / Ntikuma watched from below. / Anansi tied the pot to his front.]	Anansi threw the pot down, and it broke.	When the pot broke, the wisdom spilled out, and rain washed it into the rivers.

b2_s2	Set 3: Type your answer: Two steps: Momotarō's team was Momotarō plus his 3 animal friends. Suppose each team member carried 2 bags of treasure home. How many bags would that be in all? (Type the number.)	8 (also accepted: eight)	First add: 1 plus 3 equals 4 team members. Then multiply: 4 times 2 equals 8 bags.
b3_s2	Set 3: Find the mistake! Faisal says, "The central message of Anansi is: Anansi climbed a tree." What went wrong? [That is an event from the story, not a lesson. / Anansi never climbed a tree. / A message must be one word. / Nothing went wrong.]	That is an event from the story, not a lesson.	A central message is a lesson for everyone, like "No one has all the wisdom, so share and learn from others."
b4_s2	Set 3: Type your answer: Fernando's tale comes from the island of Puerto ___.	Rico	Juan Bobo and His Pay is a folktale from Puerto Rico.

Pre & Post sheet answer guide

Many items are open-ended. Grade for genuine understanding and complete sentences, not exact wording. Sheet: grade3/prepost/KCE_Reading_PrePost_G3W26.pdf.

PRE-LESSON WARM-UP

#	Prompt	Model answer / grading note
1	Review: The library lights went out, so Mr. Federico turned on a flashlight	Cause: the library lights went out. Effect: Mr. Federico turned on a flashlight.
2	Has a grown-up ever told you a story out loud?	Answers vary. Accept any story the student heard told out loud and one thing it was about.
3	Number the story parts in order	1: A girl plants a seed. 2: She waters it every day. 3: The seed grows into a tall sunflower.
4	Write one lesson you have learned from a story, a show or a book	Answers vary. Look for a lesson written as a full sentence (for example: It is important to tell the truth), not a topic.
5	What do you already know about Ghana, Puerto Rico or Japan?	Answers vary. Accept any true fact before the lesson.

POST-LESSON CHALLENGE

#	Prompt	Model answer / grading note
1	Retell Juan Bobo and His Pay in three sentences	Model: Beginning: Juan Bobo's mother sent him to find work, and his coins fell out of the holes in his pocket. Middle: He used each piece of her advice on the wrong thing, so the milk leaked out of a sack and the cheese melted on his head. End: He dragged a ham home on a string, and the cats and dogs ate it until only the string was left.
2	Central message of Momotarō, the Peach Boy, with one detail	Model: When we share and work together, we can do hard things that no one could do alone. Detail: Momotarō shared a dumpling with the dog, the monkey and the pheasant, and together they beat the ogres.
3	Faisal retells: Anansi tied the pot on his back and hid the wisdom at the top of the tree	He changed the important events. Anansi tied the pot on his front and could not climb; his son Ntikuma suggested the back. Anansi threw the pot down, it broke, and the wisdom spread all over the world.

#	Prompt	Model answer / grading note
4	12 kibi dango; 1 to each of 3 storytellers and 1 kept	Step 1: 3 + 1 = 4 given out or kept. Step 2: 12 − 4 = 8 kibi dango left.

★ CHALLENGE

#	Prompt	Model answer / grading note
1	Compare Anansi and Momotarō using the word share	Model: Both tales teach about sharing, and both characters have something they could share. But Anansi will not share his wisdom, and the pot breaks; Momotarō shares his dumplings, and his friends help him win. (Anansi is a spider from Ghana; Momotarō is a hero from Japan.)
